Hello children?

I know this is an important week for you. You are going to PROMISE LOYALTY to the flag. That's wonderful.

This weekend I flew over South America and landed in the Pampa area. Here I had an adventure with a kid who wanted to be a GAUCHO, and another wanted to be a famous football player. You will see a video.

I know that Argentina is a very big country. I have learnt lots of things. I wrote information in my travelling diary. I want to share some information with you.

I learnt about the GAUCHOS, animals in different geographies, National Parks and delicious typical food like EMPANADAS and ASADOS. I also tried MATE. It is very bitter for me. But I liked it.

I have some activities and games for you.

FELIX
