

THE STORY OF CHOCOLATE

Watch the video in the website and do the guide
(if you have the Booklet it´s on page 19)

(if you don´t , you don´t need to print this, you can write in your folder or in the computer)

WHERE IS IT FROM?

1) Where do cacao trees grow? Circle the places mentioned in the video

South Africa
North Africa

West Africa
South America

Southeast Asia
Central Africa

Central America
North Asia

2) Listen and complete

These trees flourish in rainy climates, just north and south of the Equator. Because these have to be just right, cocoa farming is a job that requires and by a well-trained farmer.

3) Label the images

[]

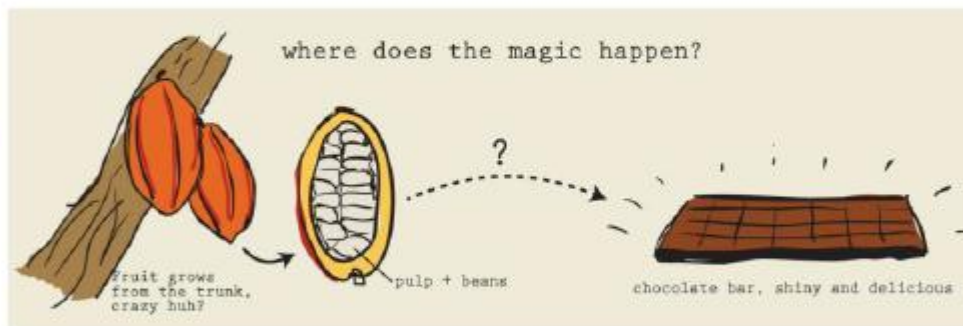

tree

[]

[]

4) How is the whole process? Complete the diagram using the phrases in the box.

Squeeze pulp	Cover with banana leaves	Dry in hot sun	Cut the pods open	ferment
Pack in sacks	Separate beans/seeds	Hand-gathering	Selling and shipping

WHAT IS IT?

5) True (T) , False (F) or Doesn't say (DS).

- a) There are more than 3 types of chocolate.
- b) Cocoa liquor and butter are derived from the beans.
- c) Cocoa butter is an artificial product added to enhance flavor.
- d) Cocoa liquor is obtained after treating the beans.
- e) Ancient cultures have used cocoa for medicine purposes.
- f) People enjoy cocoa containing products more than any other.

WHO DEPEND ON IT?

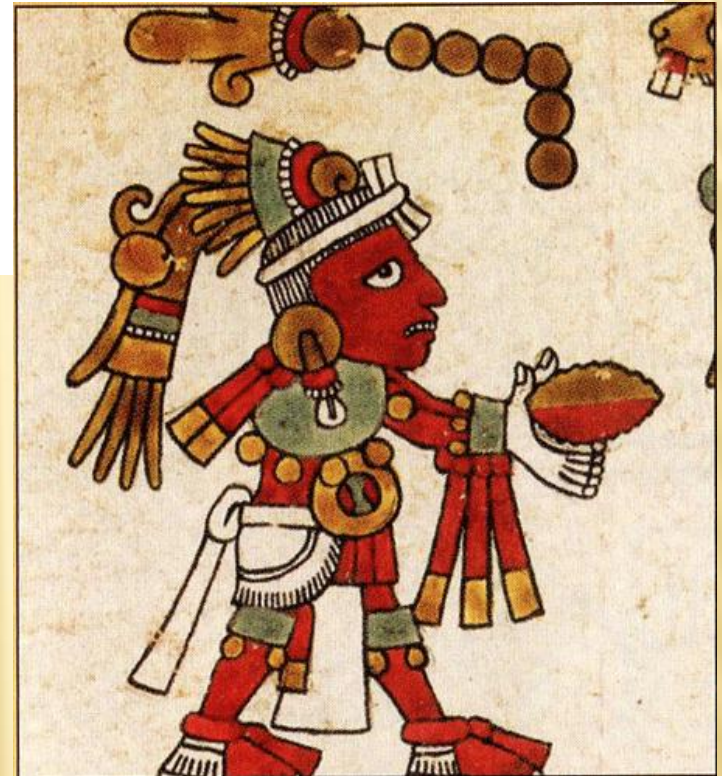

6) Complete with numbers

- a) People have been enjoying chocolate for over
- b) Nowadays,people depend on cocoa or their livelihood.
- c) Large-scale farms are rare. Usually, they areoracres.
- d) There arefarmers around the world.
- e) Cocoa is very important in Ghana. It represents between% of its GDP.
- f) There areof programmes to encourage next generations.
- g) Today, farmers can gain% more for their crops.
- h) Each year, the farmers produce overtons of cocoa.

SAVOR IT!

Answer the questions

- 7) What two ancient civilizations used chocolate as medicine?
- 8) How long has chocolate been consumed in bars, cakes, etc.?
- 9) What is the meaning of Theobroma Cacao?

Remember to send your work to ltovar@spatricio.com.ar

Thanks and see you tomorrow!!