

Hello everyone!!!!

Do you remember what I told you about having something amazing to tell you? Ok, the mystery is solved.

One of you guessed. My last trip was to Bariloche. Well, there I visited the museum. I don't know what happened. One minute I was looking at a piece of pottery and then I appeared in the stone age!!!! Prehistoric time!!!!WOW, can you imagine that?

I'm far Millions of years ago. The only things that are familiar are rocks, trees and mountains. There are no buildings, streets or signs but there are people. They look like you but a little dirtier. I think I'm the only rabbit here.

I wrote on my diary interesting information that I want to share with you. I also prepared some games for you.

Guess what? I'm thinking of a very nice workshop.

This is my drawing of a mammoth. An animal that lived in the Stone Age. It's a MAMMOTH.
