

The past

Super PoWerful

Was and Were

Super poWerful WAS and WERE will never need a helping hand!

A: Where WERE you yesterday?

B: I WAS at home all day.

A: At home? WERE you OK?

B: Yes, I WAS. But I WAS a bit worried because my bothers WEREN'T happy. So I WASN'T happy either.

All the other verbs will always need a helping hand when...

- saying NO and
- when else? When making a question!

Helping hand → didn't / did

A: Did you go to school yesterday?

B: No, I didn't. I didn't go to school because we're on a coronavirus lockdown.

A: Oh... And what did you do at home all day?

B: I played with my brothers and sisters, I read a book, I did my homework and I baked a cake with my mum and dad. I didn't play on my PlayStation and I didn't watch TV either.
