

DEAR CHILDREN,

The wind blew so hard that I was carried away to a beautiful place back in time.

I just arrived in Scandinavia during the time of the Vikings. Scandinavia is where Norway, Sweden and Denmark are. The Vikings are warriors who live in very cold places. The Vikings are also called Norsemen, or Northmen. Why? Do you know? THINK!

They are very busy building ships, making tools and plowing fields. (plowing is working on the land). I want to help but they don't let me. Some of them look fierce.

The people here wear things like pots on their heads. They are helmets. They have horns.

*The ships that they are building have colourful sails.
Some of the ships look like dragons! They have shapes at the front. (THE PROW)*

I discovered a village. I see that all the houses have a haystack for roof.

During the day they fish and cook. In the evenings, when everything smells delicious all the people come into the big house.

They don't use glasses to drink, they use horns!!!!

As usual I have lots of games, workshops and activities for you.

Hugs and kisses,

FELIX
