Hello, my name is Lewis Carroll. Well, my real name is Charles Lutwidge Dodgson but when I write my stories I prefer Carroll, the Latin for Charles. What about Lewis?... Well, that comes from Lutwidge, my mother's surname.

I was born in 1832 in a village called Daresbury in Cheshire. I have got eleven brothers and sisters. My father's name is Charles Dodgson and my mother's name is Jane Lutwidge. As a child, I loved mathematics and games and writing, too. I wrote magazines for my brothers and sisters. In 1846 I went to secondary school to Rugby¹ where I won prizes in Classics, Divinity² and Mathematics. When I was nineteen I went to Oxford. I became a teacher at Christ Church³ at the age of twenty-one. I gave maths lessons and wrote about local political matters.

2. Divinity : 神学。
3. Christ Church : 牛津大学的基督学院。

My most famous book is Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. This is a story I told to Alice Liddell and her two sisters (the daughters of my friend Henry Liddell) when we went on a boating trip in 1862.

Apart from children's stories, I like taking pictures of my child friends. Here are some pictures I took of Alice and her sisters.
